Jim Taylor's spouse works at the NCPC and is quite knowledgeable of the workings of that August Body. I asked that she give me some advice as to whether we should let them know what we intend to build a child day care center. Our No. 2 leader had advised me to only brief Congress.

Nancy talked to one of the senior members on a QT basis and he thought it would be better that we told them about it and expected it to be a 30 minute meeting at the longest. He said that they would not invite the citizens to the meeting. He said that they would need another master plan with this included and also would need some elevation and building drawings. Nothing elaborate. He said that we could go ahead but if the citizens did object then we would be out on a limb by ourselves. He said that they are now receiving a flood of mail about our parking near the 123 gate.

I think we had better get prepared and when we have documents in hand get on their agenda and charge. Also when you have some type of plans we will go down to Congress and try to get the project underway.
